

Juliette Parfitt

Role: Staff Nurse, Respiratory Ward

Juliette has spent her first year as a newly qualified nurse working on our Respiratory ward.

“I’ve really enjoyed my first year of nursing on Respiratory ward; the team is always very well supported by our Doctors and Sisters.

“Days on Respiratory ward are always really varied, we see patients with a lot of different conditions, some we’ll see just once, but others will return and you can build up a real rapport and confidence.

“We work at a fast pace, but it’s a great place to learn new skills. For example, I have just become trained to care for patients in our high care area. There aren’t many other wards where you would be able to do that in your first year of nursing.

“Our multi-disciplinary team is also excellent; everyone is really supportive and shares knowledge and experiences. We work closely with doctors, specialist nurses and therapists, you have the opportunity to gain a really broad insight into the overall care provided to individual patients.”
